

Kalmbach Enters Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert W. Kalmbach, a former personal attorney to President Nixon, pleaded guilty today to charges stemming from his activities as a Republican political fund raiser.

Kalmbach pleaded to a technical charge stemming from the distribution through a dummy political committee in the District of Columbia of $3.9 million to Republican congressional candidates in the 1970 elections.

The felony charge of soliciting political contributions and making expenditures through a committee for which neither a chairman nor treasurer had been named carries a maximum penalty of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Kalmbach also pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge stemming from his promise of an ambassadorship to a political contributor.

That charge carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

The charge filed by the special Watergate prosecutor's office alleged that on Sept. 16, 1970, Kalmbach met with J. Fife Symington of Lutherville, Md., then U.S. ambassador to Trinidad and Tobago, and that Symington promised to contribute $100,000 if assured he would be appointed ambassador to a European country.

The prosecutors said that Kalmbach called the White House and got the assurances and that Symington contributed $50,000 to Republican candidates in 1970 and $50,000 to President Nixon's 1972 campaign.

Symington never got the job he sought and Kalmbach later offered to return his money, the court papers said. Symington refused to take it back.

Kalmbach appeared in court at the start of a week during which, special prosecutor Leon Jaworski has said, grand juries will be ready to return indictments in a number of Watergate cases.

In a letter to Kalmbach's attorney dated Feb. 13, 1974, Jaworski said that the charges to which the 52-year-old Newport Beach, Calif., attorney pleaded "will dispose of pending or potential charges based on matters presently known to this office."

The letter also disclosed that Kalmbach has promised to cooperate with the prosecutors, that he may testify at future Watergate trials and that he may be named later as an unindicted co-conspirator. Kalmbach told the Senate Watergate Committee last summer that he raised $220,000 which then was passed to the defendants in the original Watergate break-in case.

He said he raised the money to pay the legal expenses and to support the families of the defendants "to discharge what I assumed to be a moral obligation."

Kalmbach said he undertook the assignment at the request of then-White House counsel John W. Dean III, who called him on June 28, 11 days after the break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Watergate office-apartment complex.

The charge filed by the prosecutor's office today said that the conduit political committee, formed on or about March 1, 1970, was set up at the instigation of three members of the White House staff. They were not identified.

Kalmbach solicited $2.8 million in the form of pledges from contributors who subsequently were contacted and told which Republican candidates should be sent the money.

The charges said an additional $1.1 million was received from an individual, who was not identified.

The money went to Republican candidates in 19 states, it said.

Several former high-ranking Nixon administration officials have been identified as targets of other grand-jury investigations expected to bear indictments this week.

Jaworski had said in December indictments should be returned by the end of February. He has several times since repeated that deadline.

Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, already on trial in New York on charges stemming from a secret $200,000 contribution to the President's reelection campaign, is believed to be a central figure in the Watergate cover-up investigation.

Mitchell told the Senate Watergate committee last July that he was aware that a Nixon campaign official planned to lie to a grand jury.

John J. Wilson, attorney for former White House aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, said he would not be surprised if his clients were indicted.

Another possible target was Charles W. Colson, former White House special counsel and political troubleshooter, who was excused from testifying before the Watergate committee last fall on the grounds he believed he would be indicted.

In another Watergate-related development, Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, said he believed the White House would cooperate with the committee's impeachment inquiry.

Also, John K. Andrews Jr., a former White House speechwriter who resigned in December after four years as a Nixon aide, said he had reluctantly come to the conclusion that Nixon should be impeached for abuse of power and failure to have the Watergate scandal fully aired.

Jaworski has predicted that the three grand juries receiving evidence from his office should be ready to vote on indictments in most Watergate matters by the end of February.

Regarded as virtually certain to come this week were the findings of the panel investigating the Watergate break-in and cover-up.

Other investigations nearing completion include campaign contribution cases, the ITT antitrust settlement, campaign dirty tricks, the White House plumbers and the probe of the unrecorded and obliterated subpoenaed tapes.

Kissinger Again Heads To Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is returning to the Middle East with high hopes that he can bring a list of war prisoners to Israel from Syria in midweek, clearing the way for disengagement talks between the two October War foes.

Even the "incredible Israeli cabinet situation" does not detract from Kissinger's optimism, said a senior U.S. official.

The secretary has the enthusiastic backing of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat for today's fourth mission to the Middle East. He would not be going if he did not expect some success, this official said.

But Syrian President Hafez Assad, attending the Islamic summit in Lahore, Pakistan, was quoted as saying "Syria will never make any concessions" in its demand for a full Israeli withdrawal from Golan Heights territory lost in the war. "We will continue our struggle," said Assad, according to a Kuwaiti newspaper.

On the other hand, Sadat predicted a Kissinger success. "As happened in the disengagement on the Egyptian front, I think can be done on the Syrian front," he said at the same conference.

If Kissinger obtains the prisoners' list, as expected, it would meet the principal Israeli prerequisite for negotiations with Syria. He will reach Damascus on Tuesday after an overnight stop in London for talks with Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the British foreign secretary.

Kissinger's main task is to bring Syria and Israel together to negotiate a disengagement of their armies similar to the agreement he worked out between Egypt and Israel last month. But the U.S. official, who declined to be identified, said the secretary did not intend to repeat — at least on this trip — the sort of shuttle diplomacy that carried him back and forth between Sadat and the Israeli cabinet.

Along the way, he intends to confer with Sadat in Cairo about extending the life of the United Nations peacekeeping force in the Sinai peninsula.

The U. N. force, which serves as a buffer between the Egyptian and Israeli armies, will be removed April 27 unless it is voted a new lease by the security council.

There is considerable concern here that unless Israel comes to terms quickly with Syria and then follows with a second-phase withdrawal in Sinai, Sadat will be so isolated diplomatically in the Arab world that he may feel impelled to move against the Jewish state again.

Kissinger returned past midnight

Sunday from the Western Hemisphere ministers meeting in Mexico City. He plunged into Middle East affairs by calling on President Nixon at the White House and attending a luncheon for Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy at the home of ambassador Ashraf Ghorbal.

In Jerusalem, meanwhile, the Israeli cabinet considered plans for a disengagement while the military command said some 80 soldiers were believed to have been taken captive in Syria. Earlier reports had spoken of some 150 missing soldiers.

Priceless Painting Stolen In London

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is expecting a demand for ransom for one of the most valuable paintings in the world, Jan Vermeer's "Guitar Player," which was stolen from a London museum during the weekend.

"We are looking for either a master thief or a madman," said a spokesman for the Yard. "It could be the work of someone who does not know what he has done or has no idea of the value of what he has got. But so far we think it is a master thief who has planned the operation over a number of years."

Police officials said they expected a ransom demand. One leading London art dealer, Hugh Leggatt, said the picture by the 17th century Dutch master is "so famous that it could not possibly be sold."

Estimates of the painting's value ran as high as $4.5 million, but Leggatt commented that it "is really priceless ... of immense international artistic importance." Vermeer is considered one of the greatest of the Dutch masters, less than 30 of his works are left and none has come on the market in years.

"The Guitar Player" was taken just before midnight Saturday in a 60-second raid on Kenwood House, an 18th century mansion in suburban Hampstead that is owned by the Greater London Council and contains a valuable collection of paintings. The house and the collection were given to the nation in 1929 by the family of Lord Iveagh, the Guinness brewery magnate.

The police said the thief or thieves smashed through a window and a shutter with a sledgehammer, seized the 18-by-20-inch painting from its frame and escaped as the alarm system went into operation. A night watchman heard the crash of the window, but by the time he reached the scene, the thieves had gone, a spokesman said.

The Greater London Council, the city's municipal government, said the museum was equipped "with the most sophisticated burglar alarm system." A spokesman said officials would have to "re-examine" the security setup.

No Army In Murphy Kidnaping

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An assistant U.S. Attorney says he has no reason to believe that more than two persons were involved in the kidnaping of Atlanta newspaper editor Reg Murphy.

William A. H. Williams, a 33-year-old contractor from nearby Lilburn, and his wife Ruth, 26, are being held under maximum security here in connection with the abduction of Murphy, editor of the Atlanta Constitution. He was released unharmed Friday evening.

Special Agent Leo E. Conroy, head of the FBI's Atlanta office, said Sunday his men are looking into "all logical leads."

Asst. U.S. Atty. William P. Gaffney said: "At this time, I know of no reason to conclude that there were more than two people involved."

Murphy said he was told by Williams that he had been kidnapped by the "American Revolutionary Army," a previously unknown group which Williams said had 223 members and six colonels.

At Fulton County Jail, Deputy Caudell Jones said the FBI indicated on Williams' admission card that he might have suicidal tendencies.

Williams and his wife were arrested early Saturday morning, within hours after Murphy was released. To obtain his freedom, the newspaper paid a $700,000 ransom. FBI agents said "a voluminous amount of U.S. currency" was found in the Williams home.

The FBI has not revealed the information which led to the quick arrest of the Williams couple. But a spokesman said Sunday that a Miami man told them he was approached similar to the way in which Murphy was lured from his home on the night he was abducted.

Hearst Family Awaiting Word From Kidnapers

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Randolph A. Hearst's tense vigil marked its third week today as "People in Need" geared up for another effort to distribute food to the needy, a precondition for the release of his kidnaped daughter.

Donations poured in over the weekend to PIN, the organization set up to meet the demands of the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army. It claims to be holding Patricia Hearst, 20, kidnaped Feb. 4 from her Berkeley apartment.

Hearst is president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner and chairman of the Hearst Corp.

Organizers promised that Tuesday's distribution of food from centers in the San Francisco Bay area would be more orderly than it was Friday.

"The response has just been super," said Peggy Maze, PIN's acting director. "People from all over the country have been sending bread, milk, frozen food, money and love."

The distribution program is funded with $500,000 from Hearst and $1.5 million from the nonprofit Hearst Foundation. However the SLA has demanded $4 million more from Hearst personally.

In response to that demand, Examiner publisher Charles Gould said the Hearst Corp. would put up another $2 million immediately if Miss Hearst is released unharmed and promised $2 million more in January 1975. The SLA has not responded to that offer, the FBI said.

PIN's first attempt to distribute food Friday to meet the initial demands of the SLA was marred by violence, looting and confusion when thousands jammed four centers. Thirty persons were injured and 35 arrested.

"A great many mistakes were made," said A. Ludlow Kramer, Washington secretary of state who organized the program. But he said 14,000 persons received food.

Mrs. Maze said her volunteers have been working night and day to ensure Tuesday's distribution is smooth.

She said the food would be on hand when the centers opened, avoiding discontent among waiting crowds. She said that as many as 12 centers may be in operation, staffed with about 250 volunteers.

Simon Again Talks Of Gasoline Rationing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Energy chief William E. Simon says he would have to recommend gasoline rationing if the visible inconvenience of lengthy service station lines became widespread.

But, he said on NBC's Meet the Press Sunday, "at this time the shortages and long lines are really concentrated in the metropolitan areas...."

He said that the extra allocations and other efforts of the Federal Energy Office are aimed at "trying to reduce the suffering and hardship and inconvenience that is being caused to the American people...."

Asked if he felt President Nixon would approve a recommendation for rationing, Simon said they "would have a long, hard conversation if I made the recommendation, but I wouldn't presuppose what his decision might be."

Simon said he is personally opposed to rationing because "basically, I just think it wouldn't work ... it would put a great many rigidities in a very complex economy."

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fluctuated unevenly today as a three-day rally appeared to run out of force.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was 5.16 off at 850.83, but advancing issues maintained a modest lead over declines in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said selling by investors taking profits from last week's broad rise was inhibiting any further gains. They also said many investors remained cautious in the face of unanswered questions about the outlook for energy supplies and prices and the fight against inflation.

The Big Board's most-active issue was American Telephone warrants, up 1/8 at 4 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, Den-Tal-Ez plunged 7 1/2 to 8 1/2. The company, whose stock traded as high as 57 1/2 last year, reported Friday that its earnings fell sharply in the fourth quarter last year and blamed the decline partly on rising raw-material costs. John Glenn Visits Here On Campaign

Primary candidate for the Democratic nomination of the Ohio U.S. Senate John H. Glenn Jr., was greeted by an estimated 150 Circleville residents at Pickaway Arms, Saturday.

JOHN H. GLENN JR.

Arriving an hour behind schedule, Glenn made stops in New Holland and Williamsport before coming to Circleville.

Introduced by Richard Gearhardt, chairman of the Glenn campaign in Pickaway County, Glenn gave a short talk stating he had to be in Cleveland by 8 p.m.

Glenn's speech majored on the financial issue which has plagued candidates since the 1972 presidential election. Concerning the financing of campaigns, Glenn said, "candidates should have been running above suspicion."

Commenting further, Glenn said that one year, he paid more in taxes than Nixon and Metzenbaum together. Continuing about Metzenbaum, he stated, "my opponent reported only what was necessary on his financial report, but I reported everything I can report about net worth, including my son, who is in college and my daughter, who is married."

The 53-year-old Columbus candidate stated, "if anybody's background is open to public scrutiny, mine is." Since retiring from the military, Glenn joined Royal Crown Inc., of which he served as president and chief executive officer. He also serves on the board of the Questor Corporation, based in Toledo. In addition Glenn is a partner, with Columbus businessmen John McGiffin and Henry Harper, in the new 5.2 million dollar Ohio State University Holiday Inn in Columbus. He also is part owner of four holiday inns in Florida.

Continuing, Glenn commented about the issues of health, inflation energy crisis, jobs, employment and the standards of life. "With love for my fellow Democrats who are lawyers," Glenn commented, "they aren't always qualified to make decisions in every aspect of life." "Tooting my own horn" said Glenn, "I feel I'm able to make decisions concerning research and development more than they are."

In a poll that hasn't been released yet, Glenn said that pollsters say there has been a swing of things. According to Glenn, it's got to be upward for him.

The reception ended with kids from an elementary school class and adults getting the first man to orbit the earth to sign his autograph.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fluctuated unevenly today as a three-day rally appeared to run out of force.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was 5.16 off at 850.83, but advancing issues maintained a modest lead over declines in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said selling by investors taking profits from last week's broad rise was inhibiting any further gains. They also said many investors remained cautious in the face of unanswered questions about the outlook for energy supplies and prices and the fight against inflation.

The Big Board's most-active issue was American Telephone warrants, up 1/4 at 4 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, Den-Tal-Ez plunged 7% to 8%. The company, whose stock traded as high as 57 1/2 last year, reported Friday that its earnings fell sharply in the fourth quarter last year and blamed the decline partly on rising raw-material costs. Den-Tal-Ez makes dental equipment.

John Glenn Visits Here On Campaign

Primary candidate for the Democratic nomination of the Ohio U.S. Senate John H. Glenn Jr., was greeted by an estimated 150 Circleville residents at Pickaway Arms, Saturday.

JOHN H. GLENN JR.

Arriving an hour behind schedule, Glenn made stops in New Holland and Williamsport before coming to Circleville.

Introduced by Richard Gearhardt, chairman of the Glenn campaign in Pickaway County, Glenn gave a short talk stating he had to be in Cleveland by 8 p.m.

Glenn's speech majored on the financial issue which has plagued candidates since the 1972 presidential election. Concerning the financing of campaigns, Glenn said, "candidates should have been running above suspicion."

Commenting further, Glenn said that one year, he paid more in taxes than Nixon and Metzenbaum together. Continuing about Metzenbaum, he stated, "my opponent reported only what was necessary on his financial report, but I reported everything I can report about net worth, including my son, who is in college and my daughter, who is married."

The 53-year-old Columbus candidate stated, "if anybody's background is open to public scrutiny, mine is." Since retiring from the military, Glenn joined Royal Crown Inc., of which he served as president and chief executive officer. He also serves on the board of the Questor Corporation, based in Toledo. In addition Glenn is a partner, with Columbus businessmen John McGiffin and Henry Harper, in the new 5.2 million dollar Ohio State University Holiday Inn in Columbus. He also is part owner of four holiday inns in Florida.

Continuing, Glenn commented about the issues of health, inflation energy crisis, jobs, employment and the standards of life. "With love for my fellow Democrats who are lawyers," Glenn commented, "they aren't always qualified to make decisions in every aspect of life." "Tooting my own horn" said Glenn, "I feel I'm able to make decisions concerning research and development more than they are."

In a poll that hasn't been released yet, Glenn said that pollsters say there has been a swing of things. According to Glenn, it's got to be upward for him.

The reception ended with kids from an elementary school class and adults getting the first man to orbit the earth to sign his autograph.

Dear Abby:

New Year's Party A Sober Idea

DEAR ABBY: Our son, Peter, who is 21 and a senior at college, came home for the Christmas vacation. He invited six couples to the house for a New Year's Eve party. My husband and I planned on staying home, although all the kids were 21 and didn't need a chaperone.

Peter's invitation read as follows: "If you plan to drink, please plan to stay all night. Sleeping bags will be provided."

I didn't like the idea of a coed slumber party, and said that no daughter of mine would be allowed to accept such an invitation-even at 21!

My husband sided with Peter. He had the party, and everybody stayed all night. How would you have voted, Abby?

MOM
DEAR MOM: Not with you, Mom. Sorry. All the kids were 21, and I think your son used excellent judgment.

DEAR ABBY: A writer recently inquired about providing a simple funeral for himself even though his wife insisted that should she survive him, he would be given an elaborate funeral with all the trimmings. You advised him to seek legal counsel.

Abby, the California Laws Regulating Licensed Funeral Directors and Embalmers (Sec. 7100) states that "prior to one's death one may direct by written instruction the type of burial he desires, and those otherwise entitled to control the disposition of his remains shall faithfully carry out his instructions."

I think it would probably be safe to assume that most other states have similar provisions. A.S.H.: LONG BEACH, CAL.

DEAR MR. H.: Thank you for the information regarding California law. But I have learned (the hard way) that when it comes to state laws, one may not safely assume anything.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe I am actually writing Dear Abby, but I have a solution for people who want to know how to get off those junk-mailing lists.

Write to: Direct Mail Advertising Association Inc., 230 Park Ave, New York, N.Y. 10017. Request an application form, and it will be sent to you free of charge. Fill it out and return it. I did, and some days, I don't get any mail at all!

ANTI-JUNK MAIL

DEAR ANTI: Writing this column has been an endless education. And I'm still learning. Thanks, friend.

DEAR ABBY: Cheers to you, Abby, for telling that bride that merely saying, "Thank you for the lovely wedding gift," when she accidentally bumped into the giver in a restaurant one evening is not sufficient. All wedding gifts should be acknowledged with a written note.

Or to borrow a phrase from Sam Goldwin: "A verbal thank you isn't worth the paper it's written on."

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) What advice can the IRS give me about choosing a tax preparer to fill out my return?

(A.) The IRS offers the following advice to taxpayers seeking assistance from commercial income tax preparers: avoid the preparer who "guarantees" refunds, wants a percentage of the refund, or supposedly knows all the angles; avoid the preparer who advises the overstatement of deductions, the claiming of fictitious dependents or the omitting of income; do not allow your refund check to be mailed to the preparer; never sign a blank return; and do not sign a tax return prepared in pencil because it can be changed later. Taxpayers should insist that the tax preparer sign the return he prepares and enter his tax identifying number and address in the spaces provided. Finally, be sure to keep a copy of your return.

(Q.) Are there any changes in the social security tax for 1974?

(A.) Yes. Although the tax rate remains 5.85 per cent for both employers and employees, the maximum amount of wages subject to social security tax has been increased to $13,200 for wages paid in 1974. This means the most any one employer should withhold from your 1974 pay is $772.20 in social security tax — up from $631.80 last year.

(Q.) I had two jobs last year, and more than the maximum amount of social security tax was withheld from my pay. Can I claim the excess?

(A.) Yes. If you worked for two or more employers during 1973 and more than $631.80 in social security tax was withheld from your pay, you are entitled to claim the excess social security tax as a credit against your income tax. For details see your tax form instructions. However, if you worked for only one employer during 1973 and more than the maximum amount of social security tax was withheld, you may not claim the excess as a tax credit. Your employer should adjust this over-collection with you.

(Q.) I received a state income tax refund in 1973. Do I have to report this as income on my 1973 Federal income tax return?

(A.) If you did not deduct state income taxes on your 1972 Federal income tax return you do not have to report this state income tax refund on your 1973 Federal return. If you did deduct state income taxes on your 1972 Federal return, you must include the state tax refund as income to the extent that you derived a tax benefit from the prior deduction.

Of course, a taxpayer who itemizes and paid a balance due in 1973 on his 1972 state income tax return should add this amount to his 1973 state income tax withheld to determine his deduction for Federal tax purposes.

(Q.) Are political contributions tax deductible?

(A.) Yes. If you itemize deductions, political contributions are deductible up to $50 ($100, if you are married and filing a joint return). Instead of a deduction for political contributions, you may claim a credit against your income tax of up to $12.50 ($25, if married, filing jointly).

(Q.) I earned $95 in interest from a savings and loan association and $150 in dividends from some stock. Do I have to pay tax on this money?

(A.) Interest income is taxable in full. Thus, the $95 in interest would have to be reported. The first hundred dollars of dividends is not taxed unless the corporation paying the dividends indicates that they are not ordinary dividends. Thus, in most cases you would only have to report $50 of your dividends.

(Q.) What are the rules for deducting travel expenses?

(A.) In order for travel expenses to be deductible, they must be reasonable and necessary and incurred while away from home in pursuit of a trade or business. Business travel expenses are deductible, even if you do not itemize your deductions.

For more information, see IRS Publication 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses." It's available free from your IRS office.

Forest Incentives Program Designed To Offset Future Timber Shortage

Tree planting on private lands in 27 southern and eastern Ohio counties will be promoted this spring by $200,000 in Federal funds to share the costs with landowners.

Details of the new Forestry Incentives Program (FIP) were announced today by William C. Bauer, Chairman of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, and Ernest J. Gebhart, Chief of the Division of Forests and Preserves, Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Gebhart said the program is a timely step toward offsetting a timber shortage that would otherwise occur in the timespan of 1985 to the year 2000.

Bauer said the FIP is a top priority part of the Rural Environmental Conservation Program (RECP), which has a $2 million allocation this year for long-term conservation practices on farm and forest lands in the state. FIP has top priority for action in his agency, with the tree planting season fast approaching.

Seventy-five per cent of the costs of two forestry practices, tree planting and improvement of existing stands of trees, will be paid for persons participating in the 1974 FIP and RECP. County offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) will accept applications in the near future.

Gebhart said State Foresters will provide technical assistance to participating landowners and are now contacting contractors with machines and experience in the planting of seedling trees. The trees, primarily pine species, have been started in State operated nurseries.

"There is extensive acreage," Gebhart said, "in the 27 designated counties well-suited for timber production." The acreage, mostly idle or abandoned cropland, totals more than one-half million acres.

Expense to the landowner will average less than $15 for each acre planted to the young trees, with the larger part of the cost paid through FIP cost-sharing.

Counties designated for the program are Adams, Ashtabula, Athens, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Coshocton, Gallia, Guernsey, Harrison, Hocking, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, Lawrence, Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Muskingum, Noble, Perry, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Tuscarawas, Vinton, and Washington.

Regular RECP funds will be available for tree planting and woodland improvement in other counties. The same 75 per cent payment rates will apply. RECP is the successor to the Rural Environmental Assistance and Agricultural Conservation Programs.

While funded at a lower level, $90 million nationally, than were conservation cost-sharing programs in the past, RECP concentrates on enduring practices to improve and preserve natural resources. It will also provide opportunity for landowners to enter conservation practice contracts covering three to 10 years, while continuing to offer cost-sharing for annual practices.

(A.) If you did not deduct state income taxes on your 1972 Federal income tax return you do not have to report this state income tax refund on your 1973 Federal return. If you did deduct state income taxes on your 1972 Federal return, you must include the state tax refund as income to the extent that you derived a tax benefit from the prior deduction.

Of course, a taxpayer who itemizes and paid a balance due in 1973 on his 1972 state income tax return should add this amount to his 1973 state income tax withheld to determine his deduction for Federal tax purposes.

(Q.) Are political contributions tax deductible?

(A.) Yes. If you itemize deductions, political contributions are deductible up to $50 ($100, if you are married and filing a joint return). Instead of a deduction for political contributions, you may claim a credit against your income tax of up to $12.50 ($25, if married, filing jointly).

(Q.) I earned $95 in interest from a savings and loan association and $150 in dividends from some stock. Do I have to pay tax on this money?

(A.) Interest income is taxable in full. Thus, the $95 in interest would have to be reported. The first hundred dollars of dividends is not taxed unless the corporation paying the dividends indicates that they are not ordinary dividends. Thus, in most cases you would only have to report $50 of your dividends.

(Q.) What are the rules for deducting travel expenses?

(A.) In order for travel expenses to be deductible, they must be reasonable and necessary and incurred while away from home in pursuit of a trade or business. Business travel expenses are deductible, even if you do not itemize your deductions.

Forest Incentives Program Designed To Offset Future Timber Shortage

Tree planting on private lands in 27 southern and eastern Ohio counties will be promoted this spring by $200,000 in Federal funds to share the costs with landowners.

Details of the new Forestry Incentives Program (FIP) were announced today by William C. Bauer, Chairman of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, and Ernest J. Gebhart, Chief of the Division of Forests and Preserves, Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Gebhart said the program is a timely step toward offsetting a timber shortage that would otherwise occur in the timespan of 1985 to the year 2000.

Bauer said the FIP is a top priority part of the Rural Environmental Conservation Program (RECP), which has a $2 million allocation this year for long-term conservation practices on farm and forest lands in the state. FIP has top priority for action in his agency, with the tree planting season fast approaching.

Seventy-five per cent of the costs of two forestry practices, tree planting and improvement of existing stands of trees, will be paid for persons participating in the 1974 FIP and RECP.

County offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) will accept applications in the near future.

Gebhart said State Foresters will provide technical assistance to participating landowners and are now contacting contractors with machines and experience in the planting of seedling trees. The trees, primarily pine species, have been started in State operated nurseries.

"There is extensive acreage," Gebhart said, "in the 27 designated counties well-suited for timber production." The acreage, mostly idle or abandoned cropland, totals more than one-half million acres.

Expense to the landowner will average less than $15 for each acre planted to the young trees, with the larger part of the cost paid through FIP cost-sharing.

Counties designated for the program are Adams, Ashtabula, Athens, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Coshocot, Gallia, Guernsey, Harrison, Hocking, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, Lawrence, Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Muskingum, Noble, Perry, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Tuscarawas, Vinton, and Washington.

Regular RECP funds will be available for tree planting and woodland improvement in other counties. The same 75 per cent payment rates will apply. RECP is the successor to the Rural Environmental Assistance and Agricultural Conservation Programs.

While funded at a lower level, $90 million nationally, than were conservation cost-sharing programs in the past, RECP concentrates on enduring practices to improve and preserve natural resources. It will also provide opportunity for landowners to enter conservation practice contracts covering three to 10 years, while continuing to offer cost-sharing for annual practices.

Farming; An Experience

Remember the housewife last summer who was active in protests against rising meat prices and was invited by a midwest farmer to spend a day on the farm helping with the chores? Pictures the next day showed her slopping the hogs and otherwise wallowing in the production end of the meat market.

She came away from the experience, she said, with a greater appreciation of the farmer's worth. Many people in modern urban settings have that problem. Not nearly as many of them have had first hand experience with farming as formerly.

Though automation has changed some farm ways, a visit to a farm by a city slicker is a unique experience. Especially for the kids who discover what it means to invent their own games and learn a little something about the source of things they take for granted such as milk, meat and vegetables.

It is a wholly different way of life, one that cannot be savored except by living it. It is too bad more people don't get the opportunity. It might not change all the preconceived notions they have as consumers, but they will have a better appreciation of an occupation which remains an essential one.

Faith And Desperation

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—A cancer patient I know received a phone call the other day. "Joe?" A Mexican voice asked. My friend's name is not Joe, but he quickly said, "Yes, yes. This is Joe." "This is Paul," the voice said. It was the voice of a man accustomed to looking over his shoulder to see if he is being followed. "Today I'll meet you at the phone booth outside the public library. Do you know?"

"Yes, I know, I'll catch a cab right now."

"Okay. You know the price has gone up..."

"I don't care. I'll be there in 15 minutes."

"Joe" is an addict, but not of heroin or opium or even marijuana. He is addicted to an essence of apricot pits called Laetrile. He and an estimated 1,000 other Americans who are popping Laetrile pills are convinced that the pills are capable of halting the ruthless spread of their cancers and may one day cure them, where surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, the conventional treatments, failed.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration sharply disagrees, after once seriously considering a comprehensive testing of Laetrile. Importing and peddling of it in the U.S. is a criminal offense.

So "Joe" and the others buy it where they can find it, risking criminal action in case they are caught red-handed while taking what they believe is a remedy for the disease that is killing them.

They have a notable ally in Dean Burk, one of the nation's most respected cancer fighters.

Burk's credentials are impressive, among them his position as a Ph.D. biochemist and senior scientist at the National Cancer Institute in Washington. He does not say that Laetrile will "cure" cancer. There are, of course, endless varieties of malignancy. He does believe, however, that it has shown some capability to control or halt the pace of the spread of certain cancers, and therefore it should be given a thorough checkout by the proper government and independent cancer researchers.

He told Norman Melnick, science editor of the Washington Post, "I know more about Laetrile than anybody else in the U.S." He says it is nontoxic and, of course, leaves none of the scars or after-effects of the standard treatments.

Why, then, the opposition of the FDA, the AMA and the American Cancer Society?

No man to duck a tough question, Burk told Melnick, "Cancer is a five-billion-dollar industry in the U.S. and Laetrile has the potential of killing it."

The FDA, AMA and ACS respond that Laetril is worthless, a diagnosis which a number of cancer victims have taken to the courts.

Comedian Red Buttons was at his most serious point last fall when he told a Los Angeles audience, "Laetrile saved my wife Alicia from cancer. Doctors here in the U.S. gave her only a few months to live last November. But now she is alive and well, a beautiful and vital wife and mother, thanks to God and those wonderful men who have the courage to stand up for their science."

Mrs. Buttons had cancer of the throat. She was treated at Dr. Hans Nieper's Silversbee Hospital in Hanover, West Germany. Dr. Nieper is a co-developer of Cobalt 60. He has been quoted as saying, "I have found Laetril far superior to any other known cancer treatment or preventative. In my opinion it is the only existing possibility for the ultimate control of cancer because it is uniquely suitable for longrange protective therapy. Found in natural foods of wide variety beyond apricot pits, especially in seeds and grasses, this is man's natural daily dose of cancer prevention, as well as control and sometimes complete cure for the cancer victim."

Heady words that can only put more pressure on those who have blocked clinical tests in America of Laetrile, which was first synthesized by Dr. Ernest T. Krebs Jr., and referred to as Vitamin B-17.

Doubling Of Alaska Pipeline Flow Announced By Oil Firms

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) expects to spend between $2 billion and $2.5 billion during the next four years in completing the trans-Alaska oil pipeline, the firm has told Congress.

The total cost of the project is expected to be in the $4 billion range, Sohio says, $1 billion more than originally estimated. And Sohio expects to wind up carrying nearly half the cost, or nearly double its current interest in the line.

Sohio says it will have to borrow "by far the largest amount of its needed capital," raising its ratio of debt to capital by nearly twice its current 27 per cent.

Because of rising construction costs and soaring demand for oil, the pipeline partnership in which Sohio holds about 28 per cent has decided to double the initial capacity of the line, raising it to 1.2 million barrels of crude oil per day instead of the 600,000 barrels proposed when the pipeline was planned about five years ago.

This means in turn that Sohio's six partners in the pipeline probably will pay less of the total cost and reduce their interests in the line while spending more actual dollars than they anticipated at the outset.

Construction of the 800-mile pipeline between Alaska's frigid Arctic Ocean shores and the ice-free southern Alaska port of Valdez is to begin this Columnist Nicholas von Hoffman talked with Dean Burk in 1971 and inevitably asked him the big "Why?" question.

"Burk blames this (ban on testing) situation on the medicopoliticians like Surgeon General Jesse Steinfeld," von Hoffman wrote. "He guesses that they are feeling snarky because Laetrile has a bizarre, un-American, unprofessional history. It's been puffed on the radio talk shows instead of in the drug company magazines. Scruffy foreigners like Mexicans, Russians, Japanese, Italians and Germans are doing most of the work on it. In this country most of the pressure to at least try it has come from condemned cancer patients who have been turned into therapeutic wetbacks sneaking across the Rio Grande to get help after modern, ineffectual medicine has given up on them. Burk says, 'Surgery and irradiation have nearly reached their limit in cancer therapy. Neither can get metastases — surgery can get only the prime visible cancer, but most people die of secondary cancers which go all over the body.'"

Look for more about Laetrile, good and bad. The cancer victims in the U.S., numbering millions, will see to that.

spring, assuming the state grants the necessary permit on which a decision is expected in April. Equipment and supplies have been moving to the North Slope for some time, speeding up recently via an ice bridge across the Yukon River. The bridge will melt and vanish this spring.

The initial capacity of the pipeline, a 48-inch line which ultimately will be able to carry two million barrels a day, has been doubled because Sohio and the other firms now know production from the Prudhoe Bay field will support the increase and because "it's more economical," says Sohio's vice president of finance, Paul D. Phillips.

It also was done "to make it profitable to operate," Phillips says, and because "we need the oil badly."

Can't Live On Fireman's Pay

LONDON (AP) — High house prices are blamed for a serious manpower shortage in the emergency services — ambulances, fire department, etc. — in the county of Surrey, rich commuter land on London's southern border.

The problem, according to Surrey County officials, is that they are committed to nationally fixed wage levels, making it difficult for young men to get a mortgage in the county, where homes are expensive.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am a restless sleeper and addicted to late talk-shows on the radio.

The other night I was shocked to hear a commentator interview a scientist who claimed that he had many of the answers to cancer that were not accepted by doctors generally.

I can't believe that this is possible. Is it?

Mrs. G. M., N.J.

Dear Mrs. M.:

Another reader wrote in more detail to tell me that the suggestion was made on that program that the reason doctors do not accept the findings of this "scientist" is that it would interfere with the doctors' revenue.

This comment is indeed a shocking accusation at doctors everywhere. It threatens the fine relationship between doctors and their patients because of the implied immorality and irresponsibility on the part of physicians. This self-styled scientist claims to know all the answers to cancer that are being sought by reputable scientists all over the world.

We must simply ask ourselves why his "definitive knowledge" about the origin and treatment of cancer is not accepted by such accredited institutions as the National Institutes of Health, Memorial Hospital in New York, Johns Hopkins Medical School in Baltimore, Scripps Hospital in California, Roswell Park cancer research laboratories in Buffalo, N.Y.

Are the dedicated research scientists and doctors who are devoting their lives to this problem more interested in protecting doctors' revenue than they are in alleviating the scourge of cancer?

Scientific research on cancer is being pursued at Harvard, Duke, Yale, Stanford, Vanderbilt, Tulane, Houston, Michael Reese Hospital, Washington University, and dozens of other medical centers. All of their research findings are published in respected scientific journals for evaluation and affirmation by other scientists all over the world.

Can the public be asked to believe that any man would be ignored if he had anything worthwhile to contribute to this great effort?

Comment was made on the radio program you refer to that the Food and Drug Administration had unfairly denied this "cancer specialist" the right to manufacture and distribute his magical cure.

We must all be grateful for the watchdog protectiveness of the Food and Drug Administration. Their rigid demands of scientific proof guards the health of our nation.

A rule of wisdom. Be wary when one man alone has exclusive "scientific" answers to any disease.

Takes Beating

By JIM BISHOP

The energy crisis—murky, complex for 90 days—is becoming clear with realistic figures. Is there a real crisis? Yes. The U.S. pumps 10 million barrels of oil per day out of the earth. It uses 17 million barrels every 24 hours. America must buy and import seven million barrels.

A barrel consists of 42 gallons. For a quarter of a century, the big oil companies paid $2 a barrel, mostly in the Arab countries. These companies, with U.S. government permission, were allowed to deduct part of the royalties paid the Arabs—dollar for dollar—from their American income tax.

They were also permitted, since the Kennedy Administration, to deduct 22 per cent of the value of their American wells from their taxes as "an oil depletion allowance." Thus, in five years, the U.S. government paid for the domestic well.

In September, 1969, Muammar el-Qaddafi of Libya attacked the smaller, weaker companies by hiking the price 30 cents a barrel and raising oil taxes. When the little ones surrendered, he turned to the big companies. Faisal of Saudi Arabia watched and waited; so did Kuwait, and the Shah of Iran, and others.

Algeria went a step further. It "nationalized" American oil companies—in effect, stole majority ownership. Venezuela, with deep wells and good crude, watched the pendulum swing. Prices began to rise. In four years, a barrel went from $2 to $10.

The governments of Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon had no energy policy. They had no notion of how much oil and natural gas were still on American soil, and no projection of American needs. Passenger train traffic fell to 17 per cent of what it was 10 years ago. Broader highways were built.

Bigger cars were sold. Air conditioners cut gas mileage by over 15 per cent. Public utilities were ordered to switch from cheap coal to expensive oil. Detroit was mandated to cut noxious fumes emissions by using expensive devices which further cut the average miles per gallon.

Two years ago, the U.S., with six per cent of the world population, was using 33 per cent of the world's energy. If any group outside the government could see the collision course between rising demand and declining reserves, it is the American Petroleum Institute.

This is a lobby petroled, naturally, to support legislation which increases the power and the profits of the big companies—Exxon, Mobil, Texaco, Gulf, Standard, Shell, Phillips, etc.—and to oppose government regulation of prices from wellhead to gas pump.

The most crushing fact is that the big companies have not built new refineries, in spite of a demand which leaped from 10,800,000 barrels a day in 1963 to 17,200,000 barrels in 1973.

Nor, in spite of astronomical profits, would the big companies drill new wells in continental U.S. Joseph Swidler, who was chairman of the Federal Power Commission in the Kennedy Administration, says the big oil companies told him, "We're not going to drill until we get our price."

If the Arabs released all the oil we could use, the United States hasn't got the refinery capacity to convert it. The government speaks hopefully of hydroelectric power, solar energy and nuclear utility plants as though wishing will make it so.

At the same time, it is privately urging the electric power companies to switch from oil to coal. Apparently, someone hasn't noticed that the big oil companies have bought some of the best coal companies and mines. The effect of doubling prices of gasoline and diesel fuel will be to drive 15,000,000 poor families off the road and back to buses and trains.

It will also take the small independent trucker and independent gasoline station out of competition. These are not guesses; they are facts. Average profits among the 10 largest oil companies leaped, in one year, 46.6 per cent.

Next year, unless they siphon billions into new drilling and start to build new refineries, the profits may be higher. No matter how high the Arabs and Venezuelans jack their crude prices, the American citizen—not the oil company—will pay for it in his car and in heating oil.

It is not an optimistic picture. But I tire of our government assuring us that prices of food, clothing and gasoline may rise a little, but "will level off later in the year."

There is something inherently weak in a system which permits the poor to be robbed of necessities. The most shameful aspect is that the American government, long before Nixon, did not see it coming and asked no one for an accounting...

Steel Companies Behind Schedule

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Steel companies in the United States are behind schedule in their shipments, Industry Week magazine said Monday.

"The companies had anticipated first quarter shipments of 27.5 million net tons, but now they believe that only 27 million tons can be shipped because of transportation problems and a shortage of some raw materials," it added.

The magazine said the recent truckers' strike was a big factor in the transportation shortage, but the availability of trucks and railroad cars has been tight for several months.

"Although U.S. mills report they are being serviced by a normal number of trucks, much of the steel ready for shipment during the truckers' strike remains to be moved," Industry Week said.

It added that some mills ran out of storage space and discontinued operations until the truckers returned to work.

February steel shipments have dropped dramatically because U.S. mills had difficulty shipping steel during the work stoppage, the magazine continued.

"Some steel companies have just recently opened their order books for the second quarter and report that April and May books are nearly filled already, despite cutbacks in ordering by automotive companies," Industry Week said. "The real impact of these cutbacks will be felt in the second quarter, steelmakers say."

The magazine said some steel firms report that orders placed by automotive companies for April and May shipments indicate a cutback of as much as 25 to 30 per cent.

However, it added that any steel the auto companies don't need is being "more than soaked up by demand from other market sectors."

Industry Week said raw steel output of 2,906,000 net tons in the week ended Feb. 16 was the highest weekly figure recorded since the week ended Dec. 15. It estimated the production last week at 2,908,000 tons.

The magazine's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap dropped to $106.50 per gross tons last week from the preceding week's record $108.67.

January Intentions Point To Huge Harvests In Fall

"Now that farmers can plant just about all they want of most crops, they intend to do just that—plant," said Walton W. Spangler, executive director of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. "Their January intentions for feed grains, food grains, soybeans indicate some huge harvests are on the way this fall."

Farmers may plant 127 million acres to feed grains—corn, sorghum, oats and barley—this spring, the most since the 148 million acres in 1960. "But as the producers know, today's yields are well above those of the early 1960's. So this year's intended acreage—though not the largest—may result in a record feed grain crop of around 235 million tons. That would be well above the old record, 208 million tons set in 1971, and 30 million tons more than last year's production," Spangler said.

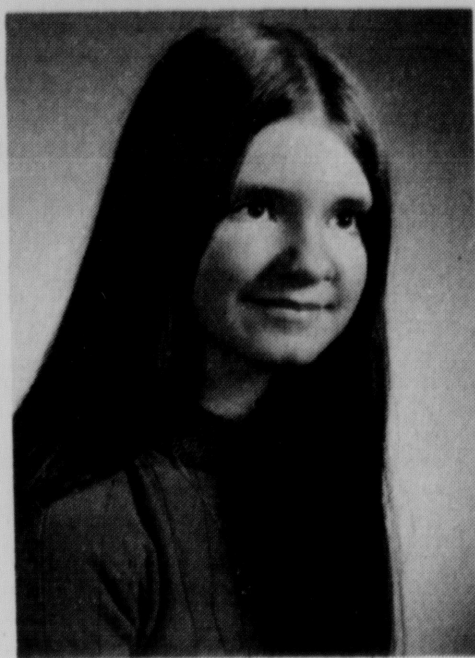

While barley prospects are down 15 per cent, farmers indicate plantings of about the same amounts of sorghum and oats, and the intended acres for corn are 10 per cent ahead of last year. Indicated corn acreage could produce a 6.7-billion-bushel crop, and corn supplies for 1974-75 would be 7.3 billion bushels—15 per cent more than for 1973-74.

The food grain outturn looks large too. Along with a possible record breaking 2.1 billion-bushel wheat crop will come almost 108 million hundredweights of rice. This much rice will enable the Nation to rebuild its stocks to a more adequate level—13 million hundredweight in mid-1975—while enabling the Nation's rice producers to meet strong export demands.

Although farmers intend to cut back soybean acres about three per cent, yields are expected to be up almost three-quarters of a bushel an acre. If this occurs, the prediction for soybeans across the Nation would be just slightly less than last year's record crop.

PUCO Irks Electric Companies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State electric companies and local chambers of commerce are ready to argue that the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has gone too far in the name of the energy crisis.

Representatives of both groups will flock Tuesday to the commission's public hearing on its interim order banning promotional activities by electric companies during the energy crisis.

The electric utilities and chambers have been irked since Jan. 25 when the commission said area development by power companies should be limited to conserving energy.

The two groups work closely around the state to foster residential, commercial and industrial growth. If the ban is allowed to stand, they said it would be a serious blow to their efforts.

"The obvious direct and immediate effect of this provision would be to handicap Ohio in relation to other states in the nation in the development of new industry," said Ohio Power Co. of Canton, the state's largest electric utility.

Ohio Power said the proposal would "condemn the State of Ohio to a policy of no growth and economic stagnation."

Likewise, attorneys for the Ohio Chamber of Commerce said the provision "would be contrary to the public interest and would adversely affect the chamber and its members."

David C. Sweet, director of the Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development, agreed.

In a letter to Edmund Turk, chairman of the PUCO, Sweet said, "In many communities, the Chamber of Commerce is the only organization working at the local level. The chamber programs are a rallying point for improvement throughout Ohio.

"I strongly urge PUCO to clarify its entry in order to insure the utilities are not impaired. Their services play a valuable part in the state development effort."

Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. said it spent nearly $96,000 on areas development in 1973. Of that, $10,000 went to the Columbus Chamber and $4,195 to chambers in smaller communities.

A spokesman for the commission said the PUCO "will try to come up a clarification after the public hearing. The intent of the interim order was to conserve energy."

"It was definitely not intended to impair any sort of development that would be beneficial to the state."

Rail Service Seen Again

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)— Rail passenger service through northern Ohio may be resumed by this summer, an aide to Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, said.

William Lind, Taft's legislative aide, said Amtrak has 14 possible routes under consideration, including service between Boston and Chicago. This line would service Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio, and is "the only one with any real political support," he said.

He said Amtrak may decide this spring, but no later than July 1 on the new service.

Lind said Taft supports the Boston-Chicago run because Amtrak appears to favor long interstate runs. He addressed the Northeast Transportation Coalition Saturday.

The old train service between the two cities was ended when Amtrak, a national rail passenger service, was created in 1971.

Ohio Road Death Rate Hits Low

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The traffic death rate on Ohio roads in 1973 was the lowest since statistics have been collected according to the Department of Highway Safety.

The department said preliminary figures show 2,342 traffic deaths were reported in the state, the lowest level since 1965.

The department credited the low rate to gasoline shortages and several safety programs.

Steel Companies Behind Schedule

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Steel companies in the United States are behind schedule in their shipments, Industry Week magazine said Monday.

"The companies had anticipated first quarter shipments of 27.5 million net tons, but now they believe that only 27 million tons can be shipped because of transportation problems and a shortage of some raw materials," it added.

The magazine said the recent truckers' strike was a big factor in the transportation shortage, but the availability of trucks and railroad cars has been tight for several months.

"Although U.S. mills report they are being serviced by a normal number of trucks, much of the steel ready for shipment during the truckers' strike remains to be moved," Industry Week said.

It added that some mills ran out of storage space and discontinued operations until the truckers returned to work.

February steel shipments have dropped dramatically because U.S. mills had difficulty shipping steel during the work stoppage, the magazine continued.

"Some steel companies have just recently opened their order books for the second quarter and report that April and May books are nearly filled already, despite cutbacks in ordering by automotive companies," Industry Week said. "The real impact of these cutbacks will be felt in the second quarter, steelmakers say."

The magazine said some steel firms report that orders placed by automotive companies for April and May shipments indicate a cutback of as much as 25 to 30 per cent.

However, it added that any steel the auto companies don't need is being "more than soaked up by demand from other market sectors."

Industry Week said raw steel output of 2,906,000 net tons in the week ended Feb. 16 was the highest weekly figure recorded since the week ended Dec. 15. It estimated the production last week at 2,908,000 tons.

The magazine's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap dropped to $106.50 per gross tons last week from the preceding week's record $108.67.

January Intentions Point To Huge Harvests In Fall

"Now that farmers can plant just about all they want of most crops, they intend to do just that—plant," said Walton W. Spangler, executive director of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. "Their January intentions for feed grains, food grains, soybeans indicate some huge harvests are on the way this fall."

Farmers may plant 127 million acres to feed grains—corn, sorghum, oats and barley—this spring, the most since the 148 million acres in 1960. "But as the producers know, today's yields are well above those of the early 1960's. So this year's intended acreage—though not the largest—may result in a record feed grain crop of around 235 million tons. That would be well above the old record, 208 million tons set in 1971, and 30 million tons more than last year's production," Spangler said.

While barley prospects are down 15 per cent, farmers indicate plantings of about the same amounts of sorghum and oats, and the intended acres for corn are 10 per cent ahead of last year. Indicated corn acreage could produce a 6.7-billion-bushel crop, and corn supplies for 1974-75 would be 7.3 billion bushels—15 per cent more than for 1973-74.

The food grain outturn looks large too. Along with a possible record breaking 2.1 billion-bushel wheat crop will come almost 108 million hundredweights of rice. This much rice will enable the Nation to rebuild its stocks to a more adequate level—13 million hundredweight in mid-1975—while enabling the Nation's rice producers to meet strong export demands.

Although farmers intend to cut back soybean acres about three per cent, yields are expected to be up almost three-quarters of a bushel an acre. If this occurs, the prediction for soybeans across the Nation would be just slightly less than last year's record crop.

Latin American Nations Urge Cuba Softening

MEXICO CITY, Mexico (AP) — A number of Latin American foreign ministers have called on the United States to soften its position toward Cuba, with one calling Washington's policy "sheer Stone Age stupidity."

The Cuba issue was the focus of attention during a closed-door meeting Friday night between Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and the 24 Latin American and Caribbean ministers attending the hemispheric conference.

Declare News Media Losing Credibility

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, warned Friday that the news media is in danger of losing its credibility as a result of overconfidence stemming from the Watergate disclosures.

"Maybe it is time for journalists to do something about credibility and virtue in their reporting," Brown, himself a newspaper publisher, told the Colorado Press Association.

The ministers are to conclude the three-day session later today by drawing up a declaration.

A United States spokesman said Kissinger's remarks at the meeting did not respond to the ministers' comments about Cuba.

The Communist island nation was not invited to the conference. Premier Fidel Castro's regime, largely at the insistence of Washington, has been ostracized from the Organization of American States since 1961 and the subject of an economic blockade by the United States since 1962.

There have been increased pressures in recent months from other Latin American nations for the United States to lift the blockade and for Washington to move toward normalization of relations with Cuba.

Conference sources said that, during the meeting Friday night, Peru formally proposed that Cuba be present at any future foreign ministers conference. The proposal reportedly was supported by other delegations, including those of Colombia, Guyana and Jamaica.

"Cuba is a four-letter word as far as this conference is concerned," Jamaican Foreign Minister Dudley Thompson reportedly said. "To ignore Cuba is sheer, Stone Age stupidity. Jamaica refuses to join anyone who takes an ostrich stance."

Hubert Ready To Run Again

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey says he will run for re-election in 1976, adding that his health is good following deep X-ray treatment for a tumor.

When asked at a news conference here Friday whether he intended to run for the Senate again, the 62-year-old former vice president and Minnesota Democrat answered emphatically: "You know it! Yessiree!"

Ohio Naval Militia Pushed By Guard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio may have its own navy floating the state's rivers and lakes this summer if legislation proposed by the adjutant general is enacted.

Ohio National Guard Maj. Gen. Dana L. Stewart has instructed his staff to ask the legislature to revive the Ohio Naval Militia after a third of a century of absence.

The naval militia, established under the Ohio Constitution which lists the branch as part of the state's protective forces, was last in operation in 1941, before the sailors were pressed into service in World War II.

Under Stewart's proposal which he said was approved by the U.S. Navy, the federal government would provide men from its naval reserves and vessels when the state had a natural disaster emergency on water.

In turn, the state would pay expenses when the men were used for Ohio duty, Stewart said.

Three 100-men militia companies would be started at Cleveland, Toledo and another yet unchosen location with headquarters near Columbus.

Each company would receive two LCPV Mark 7s, a shallow, 36-foot landing craft-type boat which can be transported by a flatbed semitrailer.

The last vessel the naval militia used was a former Navy patrol boat which navigated the Yangtze River in China in preWorld War II days.

But that craft was retired after it served along with Ohio's most recent naval contingent in the war.

In 1896, the first naval militia was formed to conform with Ohio's constitution which provided the state would protect itself with the Ohio National Guard, Ohio Defense Corps and the Ohio Naval Militia.

For beginners, the federal government gave the state a revenue cutter and gunboat for its navy. Later, four more crafts were added to the state fleet.

For a 15-year period beginning in 1926, the militia also had a Marine battalion, but Stewart said that is not planned.

Watergate Guard Long Unemployed

NEW YORK (AP) — The security guard who discovered the Watergate break-in says he has received more awards than job offers.

Frank Wills, who was an $80-a-week guard at the Watergate complex in Washington, was presented with a plaque "for keen concern in government" from the Key Women of America, Inc., last weekend. It's one of a dozen awards he's won since discovering the burglary in 1972.

Wills was unemployed for six months between the time he quit his Watergate job and when he finally landed another security post in the Washington area.

Schools Still Strikebound

HARRISON, Ohio (AP) — Few classes were planned for today for students in the strikebound Southwest Local School District in Hamilton County.

"We will stay out until we come up with some agreements," said the president of the striking Southwest Local Classroom Teachers Association.

Gary Shinn said work stoppage began Friday. More than 100 teachers participated.

The teachers have called for a community meeting tonight. The Southwest Local Board of Education set a meeting Wednesday night with the teachers.

Joseph Wiseman, superintendent of Harrison schools, said the teachers have been requested to discontinue the strike immediately and return to work.

The teachers are pressing for a new dismissal policy and a grievance procedure. He said the last two presidents of the teachers group were dismissed.

DEALERSHIP OPPORTUNITY

PICKAWAY COUNTY
The "American Dream" of owning your own business with low cash requirements can be a reality for a progressive individual in the Pickaway County area. We're looking for the person who can SELL a top line of lawn and garden tractors and power equipment to the homeowner. If you can SELL — we'll help you get started in your own business right in your own home town.

Since the power equipment business is essentially a "small engine" business, and servicing what you sell is a vital part of that business, it is helpful if you have some mechanical aptitude.

You may be presently engaged in another line of work, but have a "knack" or interest in mechanics and small engines. This would be an asset — but the overriding qualities that will assure success in this field are:

1. Your ability to SELL big ticket merchandise.
2. Your ability to manage your own business.

If you think you possess these qualities, we're ready to assist you in many ways to own your own business and help assure its success.

The winter storm that dumped its blanket of snow over the state Sunday has moved on east of us and now is located over Western Pennsylvania. Behind it, anywhere from a trace to four inches of snow covers the state.

Strong winds continued to cause a considerable amount of blowing and drifting snow. Temperatures at daybreak were in the single figures north to the low teens south.

Cold, cloudy weather was to continue most of today with some flurries lingering on. The eastern counties were expected to get another one to two inches by tonight as gusty winds continued to pile the snow in drifts.

Highs today were to reach only the teens or the 20s, falling to ten and below tonight.

By Tuesday, temperatures were to begin a slow moderation back to more normal readings for this time of year.

Plans Final For Honor Banquet

On Friday, the general committee of the Pickaway County Chapter of the National Honor Society met in the county superintendent's office with Jack Leaker presiding. Those present were Mrs. Jean Mills, Logan Elm; Tom Greer, Westfall; and Howard Weaver, Teays Valley.

All arrangements for the banquet scheduled for March 12 at Logan Elm High School were finalized. Tickets may be purchased at any of the county high schools and the county office for $2.75. No tickets will be sold later than March 5.

Those eligible to attend the banquet are any current member, graduate member and spouse, and faculty member and spouse. The banquet is scheduled for 6 p.m. at Logan Elm High School.

Parents and the general public are cordially invited to attend the program in the auditorium at 7:45 when the presiding officers will award certificates and the results of the election for next year's officers will be announced.

Entertainment will be provided by the Roundtown Players. As this is one of the limited occasions we have to honor students for academic achievement, we wish to encourage all interested individuals to attend.

Meeting Planned For After Prom Committees

A meeting of all committees working on the after prom party for Circleville High School juniors and seniors will be held at the high school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. All other interested individuals are urged to attend and especially those parents of members of the junior class.

The party is made possible only through the sponsorship of the parents of junior class members and is financed by contributions from parents. Any other help on either the party itself or contributions would be greatly appreciated.

Much work is still needed in many areas of the planning for the party. For instance, the decorating committee still remains unfilled. Individuals are especially needed in this area.

For further information, contact Sylvia Hoskins, committees chairman, at 474-6516.

Ohio Naval Militia Pushed By Guard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio may have its own navy floating the state's rivers and lakes this summer if legislation proposed by the adjutant general is enacted.

Ohio National Guard Maj. Gen. Dana L. Stewart has instructed his staff to ask the legislature to revive the Ohio Naval Militia after a third of a century of absence.

The naval militia, established under the Ohio Constitution which lists the branch as part of the state's protective forces, was last in operation in 1941, before the sailors were pressed into service in World War II.

Under Stewart's proposal which he said was approved by the U.S. Navy, the federal government would provide men from its naval reserves and vessels when the state had a natural disaster emergency on water.

In turn, the state would pay expenses when the men were used for Ohio duty, Stewart said.

Three 100-men militia companies would be started at Cleveland, Toledo and another yet unchosen location with headquarters near Columbus.

Each company would receive two LCVP Mark 7s, a shallow, 36-foot landing craft-type boat which can be transported by a flatbed semitrailer.

The last vessel the naval militia used was a former Navy patrol boat which navigated the Yangtze River in China in preWorld War II days.

But that craft was retired after it served along with Ohio's most recent naval contingent in the war.

In 1896, the first naval militia was formed to conform with Ohio's constitution which provided the state would protect itself with the Ohio National Guard, Ohio Defense Corps and the Ohio Naval Militia.

For beginners, the federal government gave the state a revenue cutter and gunboat for its navy. Later, four more crafts were added to the state fleet.

For a 15-year period beginning in 1926, the militia also had a Marine battalion, but Stewart said that is not planned.

Watergate Guard Long Unemployed

NEW YORK (AP) — The security guard who discovered the Watergate break-in says he has received more awards than job offers.

Frank Wills, who was an $80-a-week guard at the Watergate complex in Washington, was presented with a plaque "for keen concern in government" from the Key Women of America, Inc., last weekend. It's one of a dozen awards he's won since discovering the burglary in 1972.

Wills was unemployed for six months between the time he quit his Watergate job and when he finally landed another security post in the Washington area.

Schools Still Strikebound

HARRISON, Ohio (AP) — Few classes were planned for today for students in the strikebound Southwest Local School District in Hamilton County.

"We will stay out until we come up with some agreements," said the president of the striking Southwest Local Classroom Teachers Association.

Gary Shinn said work stoppage began Friday. More than 100 teachers participated.

The teachers have called for a community meeting tonight. The Southwest Local Board of Education set a meeting Wednesday night with the teachers.

Joseph Wiseman, superintendent of Harrison schools, said the teachers have been requested to discontinue the strike immediately and return to work.

The teachers are pressing for a new dismissal policy and a grievance procedure. He said the last two presidents of the teachers group were dismissed.

DEALERSHIP OPPORTUNITY

PICKAWAY COUNTY

The "American Dream" of owning your own business with low cash requirements can be a reality for a progressive individual in the Pickaway County area. We're looking for the person who can SELL a top line of lawn and garden tractors and power equipment to the homeowner. If you can SELL — we'll help you get started in your own business right in your own home town.

Since the power equipment business is essentially a "small engine" business, and servicing what you sell is a vital part of that business, it is helpful if you have some mechanical aptitude.

You may be presently engaged in another line of work, but have a "knack" or interest in mechanics and small engines. This would be an asset — but the overriding qualities that will assure success in this field are:

1. Your ability to SELL big ticket merchandise.
2. Your ability to manage your own business.

If you think you possess these qualities, we're ready to assist you in many ways to own your own business and help assure its success.

We'll assist in experienced management counseling, site acquisition, service and sales training, inventory financing, advertising, and supply you with the No. 1 Lawn & Garden tractor line in the industry. Interested?? Write briefly outlining your background and include phone number to —

State Funds Embezzled By Ex-Con

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An ex-convict has allegedly embezzled $17,429 in state funds after using forged documents to gain a job with the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals, a Columbus newspaper reported Sunday.

The Columbus Sunday Dispatch reported in a copyrighted article that Marilyn Johnson, 38, of Columbus used forged papers to create a phony past under the name of Marvin Robert Johnson.

The newspaper said Johnson successfully played the role for three years until he pleaded guilty to embezzling state funds last June.

Johnson had managed to become director of Fiscal and Personnel Management for the state Board of Tax Appeals before the charge the Dispatch said. A routine FBI check revealed his background which included time served in four state institutions and an FBI record of 13 arrests, eight felony counts and two separate sentences of 1 to 20 years in prison, the newspaper reported.

Johnson's true identity was later confirmed by the Franklin County Prosecutor's office, the newspaper said.

Herbicides Killed Viets, Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scores of Vietnamese villagers may have died as a direct result of American use of chemical herbicides in Indochina, an extensive study by the National Academy of Sciences says.

Montagnard tribesmen in central South Vietnam interviewed by academy researchers reported over and over how small children died, though many adults who became sick recovered.

However, the study says that no medical data was available to back up the reports of the tribesmen.

The research was carried out by 17 scientists from the United States, Sweden, Great Britain and South Vietnam. A copy of the report's conclusions was obtained before its formal delivery to the Senate and House Armed Services Committees.

Cornell University anthropologist Gerald C. Hickey quoted Montagnards as telling him, "Some children died and others were made ill."

The report also concludes it may be a century before some rich woodlands destroyed by herbicides and vital to the economy of South Vietnam are restored.

Teays Valley Rally Stops Mifflin, 57-51

Jim Logsdon ripped the nets for 24 points and Craig Pontius tallied 23 to lead the Teays Valley Vikings to a 57-51 come-from-behind win over Mifflin Saturday night in the AA sectional tournament at Grove City.

The Vikings battled for their lives through the first three periods of play before breaking on top for the first time in the game with 6:02 remaining in the fourth quarter.

Logsdon hit 11 from the floor and two from the charity stripe while Pontius netted seven from the field and nine out of nine from the free throw line to pace the Viking attack.

Jay Brinker added five, Jeff Anderson had four and Lee Stiles netted one to account for the Teays Valley scoring.

Charles Jones, 6-foot-7, was the big gun for Mifflin as he swished seven of nine from the field and seven of eight from the foul line for a total of 21 points for the night. He also dominated the boards as he pulled down 24 rebounds, 15 in the first half, to keep the Cowpunchers on the move.

For some reason, not apparent to most everyone in attendance, the Mifflin coach decided to set Jones on the bench midway through the final canto and he didn't see anymore action for the night.

Don Albert and Eric Bradley each added nine points for the Cowpunchers, Jurado Reese and Lonnie Robinson both hooped five points and Denton Landon tallied two.

Despite the fact that the Vikings were having a cold night from the floor, nine of 39 in the first half, they refused to panic and were ready to move when the opportunity presented itself in the final period.

Teays Valley hit on 22 of 68 from the field for 32 per cent and converted 13 of 18 from the free throw line for 72 per cent.

Mifflin shot 20 of 54 from the floor for 37 per cent and sank 11 of 18 at the charity stripe for 61 per cent.

Mifflin pulled down a total of 39 rebounds while the Vikings grabbed 29 missed shots. Logsdon led the Vikings with nine rebounds.

Teays Valley committed 15 turnovers in the game and Mifflin misplayed the ball 25 times, 17 in the first half.

The first quarter turned out to be a game of "cops and robbers" with both teams "running and gunning."

A strong zone put up by the Cowpunchers seemed to give the Vikings trouble and they just weren't getting the good shot which showed up in their shooting percentage. Logsdon managed to ripple the nets three times in the period which ended with Mifflin holding an 11-8 lead at the buzzer.

It appeared that Mifflin was going to break the game open in the second canto but, although the Vikings were having their troubles, they kept their poise and stayed in the game behind some fine shooting by Pontius. The half ended with the Vikings still on the short end of a 25-21 count.

Both teams tallied 20 points apiece in the third canto and the period ended with Mifflin still in front 45-41.

Mifflin still led 47-43 early in the final canto but Logsdon converted a pair of free throws and Pontius hit from the side to tie the score, 47-47, with 6:25 to play. Logsdon netted a jump shot from the side and the Vikings were on top to stay with 6:02 to play. They then went into a stall offense, playing for the good shot, and had the game under control the rest of the way.

Teays Valley is now 17-2 for the year and will meet Dublin, 10-9, in the AA sectional finals 8 p.m. Saturday at Grove City. The winner will move into district competition at the Columbus Fairgrounds Coliseum.

It was a tight contest for the first three periods with Logan Elm staying right in the game but Dublin broke into the clear with four straight baskets early in the fourth period to grab a margin that carried the Shamrocks to victory.

Mitch Martin paced Logan Elm with 15 points, Jeff Reichelderfer added 10, Derek Morris had eight, Scott Pontius seven, Matt Martin six, Don Bethel four, Scott Bower three while Mike Miller and Terry Crumley each had two.

Dave Stevens led Dublin with 20 points, Ron Termeer added 17, Dave Shaver had 13, Bob Townsend 10, Rob Termeer three while Terry Hyder and Steve Shipley each netted two.

The Braves connected on 20 of 47 from the floor for 43 per cent and converted 17 of 26 from the charity stripe for 65 per cent.

Dublin tallied 29 of 58 from the field for 50 per cent and hit on nine of 15 from the foul line for 60 per cent.

Rebounds were even with both teams pulling down 25. Mitch Martin led Logan Elm while Ron Termeer and Shaver paced Dublin.

Turnovers were about even with Logan Elm committing 25 and Dublin misplaying the ball 24 times.

Dublin jumped out to an 11-4 lead midway through the first period but the Braves battled back, behind the scoring of Mitch Martin, to grab a 14-12 edge at the buzzer.

It was nip and tuck through the second canto with Dublin holding a 32-29 margin at halftime.

The Shamrocks built up a 42-34 lead with two minutes to go in the third period but a six point spurt by Reichelderfer cut the gap to 44-40 at the end of the canto.

Logan Elm tallied two quick buckets as the final quarter opened to knot the count at 44-44. However, Dublin hit for four straight baskets to open the gap and the Shamrocks held the margin the rest of the way.

Logan Elm finished play with a record of 8-11. Dublin will face Teays Valley 8 p.m. Saturday in the sectional finals at Grove City.

LOOKING FOR TWO — Teays Valley's Jay Brinker jumps one from the side as the Vikings battle Mifflin Saturday night in the sectional tournament at Grove City. Teays Valley rallied to win the game 57-51.

11 Area Wrestlers Gain Berths In District Meet

Six Circleville wrestlers and five Teays Valley grapplers gained berths in the district competition as the result of sectional action Saturday at Bexley High School.

Mike Wilson of Teays Valley was the only area wrestler winning his division, placing first in the 175-pound class.

Gaining berths in the district meet for Circleville were: Andy Smith, 98-pound, fourth in sectional; Jim Cordle, 132-pound, second; Roger Davis, 145-pound, third; John McCoy, 155-pound,

Tiger Frosh End Perfect Season

The Circleville Freshman basketball team capped a perfect season Saturday defeating Miami Trace 42-29 to win the South Central Ohio League freshman tournament at Trace.

Brian Fath and Frank Merrill paced the little Tigers, scoring 14 and 13 points respectively. Bill Mogan tallied nine, Rusty Holbrook four and Mearle Logan two. For Trace, Black scored 10.

The Circleville ninth graders, coached by Darrel Young, finished the season with a 15-0 record.

GOING UP — Jeff Reichelderfer goes high in the air to get a shot off for Logan Elm in the sectional tournament game Saturday night against Dublin. However, the Braves came out on the short end of a 67-57 count at Grove City.

Leonard Thompson Wins Inverrary

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Lee Trevino's bubbling little fuss with a national television network almost overshadowed Leonard Thompson's victory — and subsequent $10,000 charitable contribution—in the Jackie Gleason Inverrary Golf Classic.

Trevino, tied for the lead until he three-putted for bogeys on the last two holes Sunday, angrily charged television commentator Ray Scott with asking him to hold up a putt so the cameras could show it live on TV.

Scott and Frank Chirkinian, producer-director for the CBS-TV crew that provided national coverage of the rich event, said it was all a misunderstanding joke.

While Trevino and the television people were involved in their contretemps, Thompson was rejoicing in his first professional victory, following a final round 68 and a 278 total, 10-under-par.

He donated $10,000 of his total purse of $52,000 to the Boys Club of America — "Winning means a lot more than $10,000 to me," he said — after beating Hale Irwin by one stroke. Irwin also had a closing 68, four-under-par, and a 279 total.

"This is something I dreamed about as a kid," said the slow talking native of Lumberton, N.C., a former assistant pro at the Possum Trot Golf Club in Myrtle Beach, S.C.

A half-dozen players either led or shared the lead in the last round — and Jack Nicklaus made a comeback bid that once got within two strokes of the top spot — before Thompson clinched it with long, crucial lag putts for pars on the last two holes.

Julius Boros, 53, who made a bid to become the tour's oldest winner in history, finished third with a final 67 and 280 total.

Lanny Wadkins, Trevino, Nicklaus and Andy North were grouped at 281. Wadkins and Nicklaus each had seven-under-par 65s in the last round, North shot a 68 and Trevino, the defending champion, took a 69.

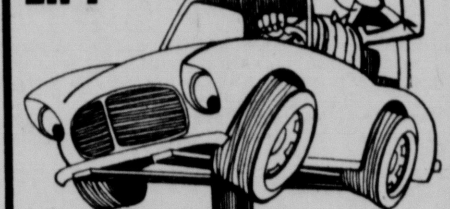

Johnny Miller, winner of three titles and more than $100,000 this season, managed a 68 but was well back at 288. He said he was taking three weeks away from the tour to seek relief from a respiratory problem that has bothered him since last fall.

Sam Snead, the 61-year-old marvel who had been in the thick of the scramble for the first three days of the tournament, could do no better than par 72 in the near-perfect weather of the last round and tied for 15th at 285.

Tiger Frosh End Perfect Season

The Circleville Freshman basketball team capped a perfect season Saturday defeating Miami Trace 42-29 to win the South Central Ohio League freshman tournament at Trace.

Brian Fath and Frank Merrill paced the little Tigers, scoring 14 and 13 points respectively. Bill Mogan tallied nine, Rusty Holbrook four and Mearle Logan two. For Trace, Black scored 10.

The Circleville ninth graders, coached by Darrel Young, finished the season with a 15-0 record.

Paul Brown Eyes Defensive Rules Changes

CINCINNATI (AP)—Paul Brown, the father of many of pro football's innovations, says it's time to declare war on a defensive tactic which dulls the game.

"I call it 'the bump-hit-grab-rollblock-catch-funnel-and-run,'" says the "dean" of National Football coaches.

And the head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals plans to air his views at the NFL winter meetings which open today in Miami.

Brown, heading into his 40th season of coaching, is in a position to do something about the bump-and-run. He's a member of the NFL's four-man committee on rules changes.

"I think it's going to get a long hard look," predicted Brown. "The bump-and-run itself, as a tactic, can be handled. But with the zone defense which has taken over, the receivers are being drastically impeded in getting downfield."

The veteran coach feels the result is the removal of a vital element of the pro football spectacle—the long pass play.

"We have to do something to circumvent this. I get a feeling that something will be done," he said.

Wisconsin

Whips OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The first Wisconsin basketball victory at Ohio State in 20 years was all over John Powless' beaming face.

"We'll be kings until we play Michigan Monday, at least," the happy Wisconsin coach greeted a writer Saturday night after the Badgers' 68-56 decision.

"It's the first time we've ever won in St. John Arena and don't forget to mention the Wisconsin football team never has won in Columbus," Powless said.

The Badgers leveled their Big Ten record at 5-5 and jumped their overall mark to 13-7 in handing the Buckeyes their eighth straight loss. Ohio State is last in the conference with a 1-10 record and 6-15 for all games.

However, talk about Michigan's visit tonight soon erased Powless' smile. "Michigan started our nose dive," the Wisconsin coach recalled. "We were ranked and had only one loss when we faced them the first time."

The Badgers swept into a 34-21 halftime lead against Ohio State and Powless said, "it's the first time we played with much feeling in two weeks."

Wisconsin won the game at the foul line, making its first 15 and hitting 18 of 20 to the Buckeyes' six of 15 free throws. Each side had 25 baskets.

Lakers Top Chicago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was, as Coach Bill Sharman noted, a good weekend for the Los Angeles Lakers. Coach Dick Motta of the Chicago Bulls had other thoughts.

Embroided in the tightest fight for a division championship in the National Basketball Association, the Lakers won their third game in as many nights with a 100-90 victory over Chicago Sunday night.

That left the Lakers 1½ games behind idle Golden State in the Pacific Division while Chicago dropped 3½ games behind Milwaukee in the Midwest. Because of poorer won-lost records, only the winner in the Pacific may make the playoffs while the top three in the Midwest should go.

"If we expect to make the playoffs, we have to play each game like it's the seventh game of the finals," said Sharman.

Elsewhere in the NBA Sunday, the capital Bullets stopped the Detroit Pistons 94-84; the Boston Celtics defeated the Atlanta Hawks 111-96; the Milwaukee Bucks trimmed the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 100-93; the Cleveland Cavaliers upended the Phoenix Suns 101-97; the Houston Rockets bombed the Portland Trail Blazers 133-115, and the Seattle SuperSonics bested the Philadelphia 76ers 115-105.

It was the fourth time in five games Los Angeles has defeated Chicago this season and the 12th time in a row the Lakers have whipped the Bulls at the Forum. Chicago has not won a game in Los Angeles since October of 1971.

Mt. Union Wins

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Mt. Union won its first Ohio Conference wrestling title Saturday night by taking two individual titles and piling up 123½ points.

Defending champion Baldwin-Wallace was second with 89½ points.

Hoosiers See At Least Tie In Big Ten

By JOE MOOSHIL
AP Sports Writer
Indiana's Hoosiers, who gain momentum and admiration with every game, figure to clinch at least a tie for the Big Ten basketball championship this week.

The Hoosiers could do it Monday night with a little help from Wisconsin. Indiana would have to win at home against Michigan State, while Wisconsin would have to upset Michigan at Madison.

If not, the Hoosiers could do it with a victory over Michigan State followed by another triumph Saturday at last-place Ohio State—the winner of only one conference game this season.

The way the Hoosiers are playing they shouldn't have any trouble against anyone. Latest to join the Indiana admiration society was Minnesota Coach Bill Musselman after the Hoosiers crushed his Gophers 73-55 Saturday night.

"Indiana is gaining momentum now, getting stronger at a good time of the year," said Musselman. "They're the best we've seen and they could go all the way in the NCAA."

While Indiana was methodically wrecking a Gopher team which had been coming along of late, Michigan turned in one of its greatest performances by trouncing Purdue 111-84 to keep alive its title hopes.

Michigan State rallied to defeat Northwestern 73-70, Illinois broke an 11-game losing streak with a 91-84 decision over Iowa and Wisconsin defeated Ohio State 68-56.

Scott May and Kent Benson were the big guns in Indiana's victory. May scored 20 points and Benson, a 6-foot-10 freshman, scored 18 points and pulled down 15 rebounds.

"He's improving with every game," said Hoosier Coach Bobby Knight about Benson. "I think he made the big basket in the second half after they had narrowed our lead to six points. It slowed their spurt and turned the game relatively into our hands."

Swords Whip New Haven

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Swords moved into second place in the torrid Southern Division of the American Hockey League Sunday night with a 6-2 victory over New Haven.

Now trailing new leader Hershey by a point, the Swords were spurred by two-goal efforts by Peter McNab, Morris Titanic and Jim Nichols.

14. South Carolina (17-4) beat Virginia Tech 82-71.
15. Creighton (21-5) beat California-Irvine 83-52; beat Hawaii 63-59; lost to Hawaii 61-60.
16. Kansas (17-5) beat Oklahoma 98-80.
17. Utah (17-7) lost to Arizona State 72-68; lost to Arizona 122-92.
18. Kansas State (18-5) beat Oklahoma 90-67.
19. Michigan (17-4) beat Purdue 111-84.

Crusaders

Lose 2-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Minnesota Fighting Saints goaltender Mike Curran held off 38 shots on goal Sunday afternoon and the Saints nipped the Cleveland Crusaders 2-1 in World Hockey Association action.

The Saints took a 1-0 lead in the first period when defenseman John Arbour put in a shot that ricocheted off the pads of Crusaders goalie Gerry Cheevers at 5:52.

The Crusaders tied it five minutes later on a power play goal by Ron Ward.

Pacers Beat Squires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"My guys gave it everything," said Indiana Coach Al Bianchi. "They just didn't have anything left."

But the Indiana Pacers did — and that was the difference in their 107-102 American Basketball Association victory over the Squires Sunday.

"We got some good jobs from guys coming off the bench," said Indiana Coach Bobby Leonard, "and that pulled us through."

George McGinnis and Billy Keller led a fourth-quarter rally that sewed it up for Indiana.

Keller scored 13 of his 15 points in the last quarter, including two free throws that iced the game with seconds remaining. McGinnis finished with 23 points, including the last six before Keller's free throws.

In Sunday's only other ABA game, the Denver rockets trimmed the Utah Stars 103-91.

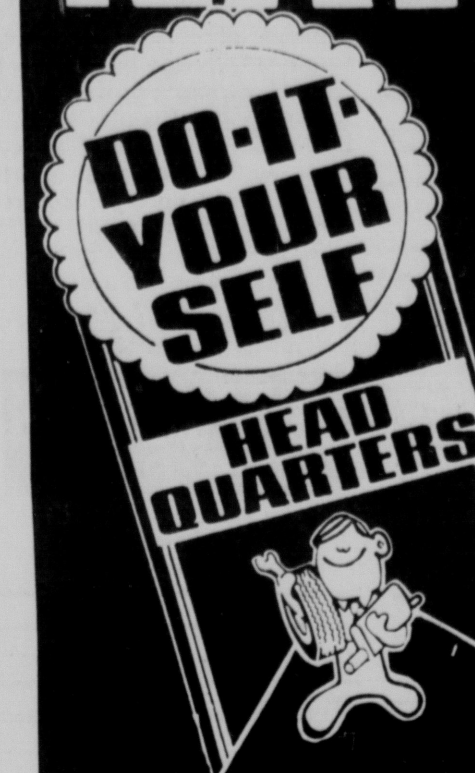

The Pacers had a tenuous 80-78 lead going into the last period before McGinnis and Keller led the charge. Mel Daniels topped the Pacers with 26 points and 18 rebounds, although sitting out the fourth period with five fouls.

Views On Television

WASHINGTON (AP) — Questions which still nag many persons nearly 21 years after the execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg are probed in a 90-minute television program about the atomic spies being aired Monday night.

The Rosenbergs, the first and only Americans to be put to death under civil law for espionage, died in the electric chair at New York's Sing Sing Prison on June 19, 1953, in what one prosecutor calls a terrible U.S. propaganda bath at home and abroad.

There were mass demonstrations protesting their innocence and seeking clemency, which President Dwight D. Eisenhower twice refused. The Supreme Court, called back from its summer recess, overturned a stay granted by Justice William O. Douglas.

The producers of "The Unquiet Death of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg," for broadcast over public television, say it was not their intent to examine questions of guilt or innocence. They wanted primarily to explore the political and social climate in which the couple was tried and executed. It was the period of the cold war and of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., and his pursuit of Communists.

Research for the program uncovered one bit of news — the death in Philadelphia on Aug. 28, 1972, of Harry Gold, a principal accuser of the Rosenbergs who served 15 years in prison after pleading guilty to atomic espionage. Gold, who was 60, died during heart surgery, and his brother Joseph preferred to keep the death a private matter since, as he said, he was sick of the publicity.

The television program mentions this only incidentally. "As for Harry Gold," it says, "we found him in a Philadelphia cemetery, seven years after he was released from prison. He left behind...a characterization by his last employer. Harry Gold was a gentle man who had difficulty separating fantasy from reality."

Making their first public appearance on the program are the Rosenbergs' sons, who have gone under the name of their adoptive parents, Meeropol. Michael was 10 and Robert 6 when their parents were executed.

Morton Sobell, who served 18½ years of a 30-year sentence as a co-conspirator, tells his story for the first time; he did not testify at the trial.

Alvin H. Goldstein, producer of the documentary for the National Public Affairs Center for Television, says seven months of research went into it, tracking down and interviewing persons involved.

The narrator says 112 persons were interviewed, dozens of whom represented the prosecution, but that only two assistant attorneys, Roy Cohn and James Kilsheimer, agreed to appear.

Saturday's Answer

Gale Storm Is Current Attraction At Playhouse

Gale Storm of "My Little Margie" fame is starring in the current production at the Country Dinner Playhouse in Reynoldsburg, "No Hard Feelings". Miss Storm became an immediate success with her first television show "Margie", which ran for four years and 126 performances. Her television success was followed by success in the pop recording field.

MISS GALE STORM
Her first record, "I Hear You Knockin'" was a rock and roll sensation and sold over a million. She continued in the recording field with four other hits and gained fame among the very top singers with over 6,000,000 record sales to her credit. She later went back to television in another four-year run called "Oh Susanna". After finishing the show and taking a rest from entertainment, Miss Storm embarked on her current career area starring in such plays as "The Unsinkable Molly Brown", "Cactus Flower" and "Plaza Suite".

"No Hard Feelings" is a delightful comedy about a middle aged woman who leaves her husband for a younger man. Starring as the husband is Tyler McVey with Arne Gundersen as the other man. Lee H. Doyle co-stars as the business partner, Eda Seasongood as the best friend and Lorelle Brownell as the daughter. Also appearing is Peter Jolly.

The play covers a period of one year in which a multitude of amusing little experiences are encountered.

Tyler McVey's history in the acting profession is no less admirable than that of his leading lady. He has played in over 300 episodes of television series including "I Love Lucy", "Maverick", "Bonanza", "High Chaparral", "Wyatt Earp", and "Ozzie and Harriett". He appeared recently opposite Gale Storm in a dinner theater performance of "Plaza Suite."

Both the veteran performers do justice to their experience in the current play. Backed up all the way by the co-stars, the production is one of rare excellence.

The Country Dinner Playhouse offers a lavish smorgasbord dinner just prior to the performance and features special rates for Roundtowners on Wednesday nights. The price includes the buffet and performance in a one-stop night of entertainment.

LE Students Honor Art Month

Logan Elm High School's art instructor, William Chandler, announced today that March is Youth Art Month. Ohio is again joining other states in this celebration to honor excellence in high school student art work. The Governor's Youth Art Exhibition will again be held this year at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts March 24 through April 21.

This past weekend, the Central Ohio region held a preliminary screening at McClain High School in Greenfield, preparing for the Governor's exhibition. The central region contains 17 counties including Pickaway. Over 700 pieces of student art were submitted by 28 schools. From this number, 100 pieces were selected for representation.

Included in this number was work done by seven Logan Elm High School art students. Those students honored were Tammy Green, Gina Henn, Ronnie Stevens, Lonnie Maxson, Richard Haley, Alan Pine and Jack Clark. A regional exhibit will be held at McClain High School Feb. 25 through March 5.

EIGHTH GRADE EGOLGISTS—Fifteen students of Miss Karen Rafeld's 8-1 science class braved the weather Sunday to collect trash along Route 188 and Pontious Road. The students began at 2 p.m. gathering enough trash to fill a pick-up truck. However, they couldn't brave the wintery blasts much over an hour.

Gale Storm Is Current Attraction At Playhouse

Gale Storm of "My Little Margie" fame is starring in the current production at the Country Dinner Playhouse in Reynoldsburg, "No Hard Feelings". Miss Storm became an immediate success with her first television show "Margie", which ran for four years and 126 performances. Her television success was followed by success in the pop recording field.

MISS GALE STORM

Her first record, "I Hear You Knockin'" was a rock and roll sensation and sold over a million. She continued in the recording field with four other hits and gained fame among the very top singers with over 6,000,000 record sales to her credit.

She later went back to television in another four-year run called "Oh Susanna". After finishing the show and taking a rest from entertainment, Miss Storm embarked on her current career area starring in such plays as "The Unsinkable Molly Brown", "Cactus Flower" and "Plaza Suite".

"No Hard Feelings" is a delightful comedy about a middle aged woman who leaves her husband for a younger man. Starring as the husband is Tyler McVey with Arne Gundersen as the other man. Lee H. Doyle co-stars as the business partner, Eda Seasingood as the best friend and Lorelle Brownell as the daughter. Also appearing is Peter Jolly.

The play covers a period of one year in which a multitude of amusing little experiences are encountered.

Tyler McVey's history in the acting profession is no less admirable than that of his leading lady. He has played in over 300 episodes of television series including "I Love Lucy", "Maverick", "Bonanza", "High Chaparral", "Wyatt Earp", and "Ozzie and Harriett". He appeared recently opposite Gale Storm in a dinner theater performance of "Plaza Suite."

Both the veteran performers do justice to their experience in the current play. Backed up all the way by the co-stars, the production is one of rare excellence.

The Country Dinner Playhouse offers a lavish smorgasbord dinner just prior to the performance and features special rates for Roundtowners on Wednesday nights. The price includes the buffet and performance in a one-stop night of entertainment.

EIGHTH GRADE EGOLOGISTS—Fifteen students of Miss Karen Rafeld's 8-1 science class braved the weather Sunday to collect trash along Route 188 and Pontious Road. The students began at 2 p.m. gathering enough trash to fill a pick-up truck. However, they couldn't brave the wintery blasts much over an hour.

Included in this number was work done by seven Logan Elm High School art students. Those students honored were Tammy Green, Gina Henn,

Ronnie Stevens, Lonnie Maxson, Richard Haley, Alan Pine and Jack Clark. A regional exhibit will be held at McClain High School Feb. 25 through March 5.

NUTRITIONAL LABELING

to help consumers eat better

Something new is being added to food labels. It's called nutritional labeling, and it is designed to help shoppers make sure their families are eating the right foods.

The amount of protein and the seven essential vitamins and minerals contained in a serving of the food product will be shown right on the label as a percentage of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance for adults. Calories also will be listed, along with grams of protein, carbohydrates and fat. Using this information, the homemaker can plan menus which will insure that her family gets 100% of the protein and the essential vitamins and minerals they need each day.

Some of the new labels are starting to appear on store shelves already. Kroger shoppers, for example, will find the new labeling on Kroger breakfast cereals, white bread and buns, low calorie salad dressings, and pork and beans. In the months to come, more and more products will bear this important information on their labels. Kroger is going beyond the U.S. Food and Drug Administration requirements and plans to nutritionally label many of its own brand products, which are equal in nutritional quality to leading brands yet cost less.

Read the labels. Let nutritional labeling help you shop more wisely.

to help consumers eat better

Something new is being added to food labels. It's called nutritional labeling, and it is designed to help shoppers make sure their families are eating the right foods.

The amount of protein and the seven essential vitamins and minerals contained in a serving of the food product will be shown right on the label as a percentage of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance for adults. Calories also will be listed, along with grams of protein, carbohydrates and fat. Using this information, the homemaker can plan menus which will insure that her family gets 100% of the protein and the essential vitamins and minerals they need each day.

Some of the new labels are starting to appear on store shelves already. Kroger shoppers, for example, will find the new labeling on Kroger breakfast cereals, white bread and buns, low calorie salad dressings, and pork and beans. In the months to come, more and more products will bear this important information on their labels. Kroger is going beyond the U.S. Food and Drug Administration requirements, and plans to nutritionally label many of its own brand products, which are equal in nutritional quality to leading brands yet cost less.

Read the labels. Let nutritional labeling help you shop more wisely.

We hear you and we're trying to help!
